

This year AGIC is celebrating the 30th year of the Symposium and in honor of this great milestone there will be a new special category for the Maps & Apps Contest:

!NEW! Annual Theme/Special Category: Thirty

Help us celebrate 30 years of the AGIC Symposium by submitting a map, app, or story map that features the number 30 and Arizona. Let your creativity run wild!

Poster/Print Maps:

New this year, all printed maps will be eligible for either the Best Cartography or Best Analytical award to be decided by the voters. You only have to enter once to be eligible.

Best Story Map:

An interesting topic or idea that uses creativity and design to tell a story that engages users. All entries must be accessible to the public for this category.

Best Application:

An application that communicates or extracts data or spatial information through a well designed, functional interface that is easy to use and navigate. All entries must be accessible to the public for this category.

Student Project—College:

Entrants must be enrolled in a certificate, undergraduate or graduate program for the 2023/2024 academic year. Map/Poster can be on any topic or subject, but must contain some sort of GIS mapping component in the form of mapped data and/or analysis results. Map/Poster can be produced using any GIS and/or graphics software and must have been 100% created/ authored by the student. Guidance by Professors/TAs is allowed, but actual cartographic work must be done solely by the student. Group projects are allowed, but credit should be given to all contributors.

Student Project—K-12:

Entrants must be K-12 teachers or students. Entries can be an individual or group effort and should identify the school, teacher and/or leaders overseeing the project.

There are no restrictions on the tools, technologies or the data you use in your maps. All maps you publish have to be your original work, except where you are submitting on someone's behalf. Give credit to the original data source whenever possible.

Entries are now being accepted until 5 p.m. on Friday, August 18, 2023. Go to the Maps & Apps submission page to submit your entry.
